10 The Courtroom Deputy will select their names at random and seat them

13 eight (or more for a lengthy trial) will remain after all peremptory

16                             The Court will then take cause challenges, and discuss hardship 17 claims from the individual jurors, outside the presence of the venire.
18 The Court will inform the attorneys which hardship claims and cause
19 challenges will be granted, but will not announce those dismissals
20 until the process is completed. Each side may then list in writing 21 up to three peremptory challenges. The attorneys will review each 22 other's lists and then submit them to the Courtroom Deputy.

23                             Then, from the list of jurors in numerical order, the Court will 24 strike the persons with meritorious hardships, those excused for 25 cause, and those challenged peremptorily, and call the first eight 26 people in numerical sequence remaining. Those people will be the 27 jury.

28                             All jurors remaining at the close of the case will deliberate.

1 There are no alternates.
